

Staff Reductions Studied

A reduction in force policy that would make staff cuts on a system-wide basis rather than on a school by school basis, was given a preliminary nod by the school committee Tuesday night.

The former policy provided that cuts be made on a school by school basis when staff reductions became necessary because of a decrease in enrollment, decrease in revenues, curriculum changes, "or for other just reasons."

Committeeman Casimir Kolaski came forward with the proposed revisions to the policy, and called the school system basis "a significant change which insures each teacher equal rights and treatment no matter what school he or she is in.

The revised policy then provides that staff reductions come as far as possible from "normal attrition" — that is, from retirements or resignations that would provide the least disruption of present staffers.

The next group eligible to be cut would be probationary employees, and no tenured teacher would be released as long as a position for which he or she was certified was maintained by a non-tenured teacher.

Another major policy change is that within each category — probationary and tenured — reductions would be based on evaluations, training and experience, rather than purely on seniority or evaluation.

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert supported the latter point because, he said, if reductions are made solely on seniority, you're going to lose a certain amount of vitality and new ideas in the system."

Committeeman Joseph Finn also suggested adding an introductory statement to the policy which would indicate that it was consistent with the best interest of the school system to keep the best qualified and best performing teachers in the system.

The committee will have another go at the policy at its Oct. 4 session.

School Post Is Examined

The Andover School Committee indicated Tuesday night it will go along with a new "assistant superintendent" instead of an associate, providing the new position doesn't leave them open to any litigation. Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert proposed an organization chart that would have an assistant superintendent reporting directly to him, and said that an associate normally exists only in school systems much larger than Andover's.

He said he felt an assistant would be much more in line with the duties to be performed here, and added that it was the school committee, not he, who opted for the associate position in a reorganization move three years ago.

Associate Supt. Harry Westcott was hired in the new spot at that time, but he resigned this summer to become superintendent of a district in New Hampshire.

Seifert also "still maintains" that for Andover to keep pace with instructional programs, the system should have two assistants — one each for the elementary and secondary level. He said he recognized that the town couldn't really afford two, but said that a lot of things, such as program monitoring, won't be done as effectively with only one assistant.

Seifert had hoped to begin advertising for an assistant before the Oct. 4 school committee meeting, but the committee preferred to wait until any legal questions were answered.

Chairman David R. Ahouse noted that in the two and a half years he's been on the committee, the central office staff has always been down one person and said he didn't feel the school system would go down the drain if they waited two more weeks.

He said he preferred to wait because the

Postal Plan Gets Return To Sender

The latest package delivered to Andover by the U. S. Postal service regarding local facilities is being stamped "return to sender," by town officials, residents and postal union members.

Within the past month postal officials informed the town's Industrial Development Commission, that it now plans to move the distribution and processing operations to Lawrence and phase out the Ballardvale and Shawsheen substations. The present Main street facility would be renovated, customer services retained and number of boxes expanded.

This followed two years of attempting to find a location for a new processing facility, with about a dozen locations rejected either by the town or the post office department.

During this period selectmen insisted on the downtown facility remaining in operation, and indicated they would not consider any sites until such guarantee was given.

With the announcement of the intent to move operations to Lawrence, a petition drive was initiated last weekend and is to

Warrant Hearing Thursday

The Finance Committee will hold a public hearing on the warrant next Thursday, Sept. 29 at 7:30 p.m. in the meeting room of Memorial Hall library.

The hearing is scheduled to give residents an opportunity to discuss items in the warrant for the Oct. 24 town meeting.

The FinCom conducts the public hearing in order to get input from the public on the various issues facing the special session, prior to making their recommendations.

The warrant for the Oct. 24 session is published beginning on page 38 of today's Townsman.

IDC To Get Abbot Proposal

The Industrial Development Commission is expected to be asked to assist Phillips Academy with the disposal of the Abbot Academy land and buildings off School street.

The IDC, which has taken on the Sacred Heart property disposal and resolution of the post office problems at the request of the selectmen, will be asked to aid the academy in carrying out the wishes of the town.

The Abbot property is to be sold by Phillips and academy officials have been working with the town in an effort to dispose of the property in a manner acceptable to the town.

When the selectmen meet Monday night they are expected to formalize specific guidelines they would like the academy to follow with an aim toward guarding against over density development while placing the property on the tax roles, hopefully.

Pupil Losses Are Concern

The Andover school committee, concerned over unpredicted enrollment drops at Shawsheen School and Andover High, will launch a study into the problem at their Oct. 4 meeting.

The population at Shawsheen is down 50 from the enrollment in June — or 20 to 30 more than expected. At the same time, there's been a loss of 75 to 100 pupils at the high school, or about 50 more than anticipated.

Representatives from both of those schools will be asked to attend the next meeting and offer their suggestions.

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert said hard numbers, but also the reasons behind the declines, should be known before the committee has to act later this year on recommendations of the Declining Enrollment Committee. That citizen group is studying declining enrollments in lower grades all over town and may recommend the phasing out of Shawsheen School or the rearrangement of some school districts or both.

Seifert Tuesday night was quick to dispell any though that the unpredicted declines are due to the fact that one school is not getting as good treatment as others. He said the programs are essentially the same.

Student Advisors To Committee

Led by veteran Susan Babicki, a group of Student Advisory Council members attended the school committee meeting Tuesday night. Newcomer Louise Mirisola had the honor of sitting at the committee table, and was promised a turn to talk at the next committee session. Also attending were Ann Moriarty and Beth Moynihan.

Committee Reps To Schools

Assignments of school committeemen as representatives to the various schools were also made Tuesday night, with Joseph Finn going to Bancroft and Sanborn Schools; Alan Doerr, West Jr. High and Andover High; Elaine Viehmman, South and East Jr. High; and Dave Ahouse, Doherty and Shawsheen. Casimir Kolaski will continue as representative to West Elementary and the Parent Teacher Organization.

Ten ABC Students Return

Ten A Better Chance students returned to Andover earlier this month, and were welcomed by Resident Directors Mr. and Mrs. Tom McGee into the newly renovated coed dormitory at 134 Main Street. They are all enrolled at Andover High.

The students, and their local host families, include Teresa Hunter, a junior from Nashville, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Willard Robinson; Anita Palmer, a junior from Nashville, Mr. and Mrs. John Riehl; Doretta Robinson, a senior from Mamaroneck, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. John Logan; Evelyn Vargas, a junior from New York City, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cook.

Also Gary Anderson, a senior from Nashville, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Clark; Wildolfo Arvelo, a junior from The Bronx, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. Bob Friedenson; Gerald James, a junior from Brooklyn, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. John DiIorio; George Laboo, a senior from Philadelphia, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lane; Tony Pace, a senior from Atlanta, Ga., Mr. and Mrs. David Corbett; Frank Valentin, a junior from Brooklyn, N.Y. and Mr. and Mrs. George Vania.

Employment of dental technicians is expected to grow faster than the average for all occupations due to expanding dental prepayment plans and an increase in the number of older people who require dentures, according to the "Occupational Outlook Handbook in Brief," published by the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Bay Bank Offers New Service

William R. Kennedy, president of BayBank Merrimack Valley, has announced a new electronic banking service for the area, "BayBanks X-Press".

BayBank Merrimack Valley, 23 Main St., Andover, is one of nine Baybanks in eastern Massachusetts to offer this new service, a network of customer activated electronic terminals.

The units enable customers with "Something Better", a single statement multi-account banking plan offered only by BayBanks, to perform many simple banking transactions. By use of the units, customers can avoid teller lines at all 13 offices of BayBank.

With a BayBanks card and a secret password, a customer may approve personal checks drawn on his "Something Better" checking or NOW account up to $200 per day for cashing at a tellers window in any one of 157 offices of BayBanks. A customer may also use BayBanks X-Press to verify balances at any office of BayBanks.

In any office of BayBank Merrimack Valley the customer can transfer funds from one "Something Better" account function to another instantly without filling out forms or going to a teller.

The service offers customers increased privacy, speed and convenience, Kennedy claims.

Pike Begins With Enrollments Of 356

The Pike School, a coeducational independent day school in Andover, opened the 1977-78 school year on Thursday, Sept. 15, under the direction of Acting Headmaster E. Standish Bradford, who comes to Andover after having served as headmaster of Newark Academy, Livingston, N.J. Opening day enrollment totaled 356 students in grades nursery through ninth with 51 new families sending children to Pike this year.

Four new teachers have been appointed to the faculty.

Wood Cutting Allowed At Harold Parker

Harold Parker State Forest will once again be a part of the State Department of Environmental Management's "Cut-A-Cord" program.

The cutting will be allowed beginning Sept. 30, and Commissioner Richard E. Kendall has emphasized that only dead trees or trees marked for cutting may be removed, and only after a permit is obtained at the Forest.

This year permits will be issued daily on a first-come, first-served basis, and will cost $3 for Massachusetts residents and $5 for out-of-state visitors. A permit allows the holder to cut up to two cords on one day only. All wood must be removed from the site on the day it is cut.

"A cord of wood", according to the Commissioner, "is a lot more wood than most people realize. It's a closely stacked pile eight feet long, four feet high and four feet wide. When you consider that a cord of wood can supply as much heat as 200 gallons of fuel oil, it is possible - with a saw - to cut down on the high cost of heat during the winter."

The Cut-a-Cord program is scheduled from Sept. 30 to Dec. 4 unless snow conditions or other factors make working in the forests impossible.

She has also served on the Board of Trustees for the White Mountain School in Littleton, New Hampshire.

Miss Patricia A. Miss Jewell has had experience in schools in Horseheads, New York and Elmira, New York.

Miss Susan B. McLucas, who will teach science in the Middle School, holds a bachelor's degree from Reed College, a master's degree from Lesley College and has done graduate work at Tufts University.

This winter, cut your fuel costs.

Here are just nine of the ways to cut your fuel consumption this winter. And dramatically cut your fuel expenses now and in the future.

But, before you go about it, there are a few things you should do. First, read the other half of this message to find out how you can save money in making your improvements. Then get in touch with the Massachusetts Energy Policy Office for literature and advice that will save both energy and dollars.

CALL THEIR TOLL FREE NUMBER 1-800-922-8265.

Finally get three estimates before you have any work done. And if you finance this work with a loan, be sure to compare loan rates.

This fall, cut the cost of cutting your fuel cost.

The government is warm to the idea.

High energy consumption and dependence on foreign fuel sources has long been a thorn in Washington's side.

To deal with it, Congress is now considering the President's proposal for a federal income tax credit on dollars spent for conservation-minded home improvements. It would probably allow 25% on the first $800 and 15% on the next $1,400. This may be retroactive to April 20, 1977.

If this proposal is approved, $2,200 spent on weatherizing your home would save you over $400 on your 1977 taxes.

In addition, both the state and federal governments are encouraging the switch to solar heating through grants and tax credits. From the state, there will be 1,300 HUD grants, of $400 each, for families turning to solar this fall.

And in Washington, the President's energy proposal also includes a tax credit for families switching to domestic solar heating. 40% for the first $1,000 and 25% on the next $6,400, with a maximum total credit of $2,000.

We're warm too. With a 10% interest rebate.

From now through November 30th, Andover Savings Bank offers a 10% rebate on the interest for any loan used to finance the cost of energy conserving improvements made on your home. We will send you a check for the amount of your rebate with your payment booklet.

Right now, before even Congress makes up its mind, we're making energy conservation more attractive by offering money conservation. Which is why we call it the Conservation Loan.

So start planning. If the proposal goes through Congress, you'll get a tax credit. And even if it doesn't, you could still save more money on your fuel bills than you'd realize on the tax credit anyhow.

Contact the Massachusetts Energy Policy Office and get more information on energy saving improvements. Then talk to several reliable heating and insulating contractors for estimates. Get your best deal and then come see us about financing.

This fall, it pays to prepare for winter.

Rogers Dell Becomes A Park

Many Andoverians are taking a special delight in the current restoration of Rogers Dell. The plot of woodsy ground at the corner of School Street and Lupine Road is being transformed into a lovely little park.

Under the aegis of the Conservation commission and the dedicated supervision of Mrs. Louise Van Everen, Rogers Dell has been cleared of, and is being kept free from, all rubbish.

The restoration of the Dell was instigated by Mrs. Van Everen, who saw its inherent possibilities. She has a volunteer crew of enthusiastic young helpers, who take pride in maintaining a high standard of order in the Dell. They are on hand each week to inspect and to remove any trash that may have accumulated.

A second comfortable bench has been donated to the Conservation Commission by Miss Janet Pinkham.

The bench was installed last week in a shady spot with a view of the woods.

Plans are under way for planting of flowers next season to further enhance the charm of this inviting little oasis.

Rogers Dell offers a serene spot for anyone who loves the outdoors to enjoy — mothers with children, senior citizens, to children for play, and to all who value a place for a quiet interlude in the day's activities.

The Labor Department funded Project RENEW (Referral Employment Network for Elderly Workers) is expected to develop a more positive image toward older workers by employers and improve job services to the aged.

Co-generation of electricity is common in Sweden. Heat generated from industrial processes is used to generate electricity for the plant. This electricity, also, is sold to surrounding communities.

Pot Luck Supper Is Planned

The Andover Choir Parents Association will hold its annual pot luck supper on Wednesday, Sept. 28, 6:30 p.m. at South Church.

The supper, according to chairman Beth Kiker, offers the opportunity to greet parents of the incoming choir members and exchange greetings with all choir members and parents. Also choir directors, Keith Gould and Everett Collins will be honored guests.

Tentative plans for fund raising projects will be discussed as the choir is planning a spring concert tour covering Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, D. C. The girls chorus and Acapella Choir will entertain during the evening.

The supper is open to all Andover High School choir members and their parents. Assisting Mrs. Kiker in arrangements for the evening are the Mrs. Marguarite Bourbon, Charlotte Taylor, Pat Leonard, Carol Levante, Dotty Gall, Jean Canavan, Ruby Easton and Nona Winnick.

Any choir parents who may not have been contacted yet should call any of the committee members.

Walk-A-Thon Planned By Hadassah

The Greater Lawrence Chapter of Hadassah is sponsoring the annual Walk-A-Thon, for the benefit of Youth Aliyah, on Sunday, Oct. 2 at 2 p.m. It will start from the DeMoulas parking lot at Shawsheen Plaza in Andover and walk to the home of Alan and Marge Starensier, where cookies and punch will be served, and then return to Shawsheen Plaza. A distance of six miles.

Youth Aliyah was established in the early 1930's to rescue and transfer children from Europe to Palestine. It has grown dramatically over the years and there are over 1,000 children currently in the care of Youth Aliyah in Israel. This program emphasizes the rehabilitation of culturally disadvantaged Jewish children in the Jewish State. It provides them with a strong and meaningful educational, cultural, recreational and social background.

All are asked to use sign-up sheets to secure pledges for walking the route.

For further information, call Co-chairpersons Joyce Witover or Joan Labell.

Open House

The West Elementary School PTO is sponsoring an Open House on Thursday, Sept. 29 from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Parents are invited to visit the classrooms and meet their children's teachers.

Ecological lessons learned following the pollution of the land, air, rivers and lakes are not being applied to the oceans; a dead ocean would bring about a dead earth, Massachusetts Audobon tells us.

Museum Course For Children

The Harvard University Museum is offering a series of six Children's Saturday Mornings, when children (ages 8 to 12) are invited to discover the treasures in the museums and learn more about them through projects, games, and other activities.

Taught by members of the Museum Education Staff, the series will begin on October 15, 9:30 to 11:30.

Registration deadline is October 7 with the Museum of Comparative Zoology, 26 Oxford St., Cambridge 02138.

For more information, call Gabrielle Dundon.

Permanent exhibits at the Peabody Museum of Salem, 161 Essex St., include maritime history of New England, life at sea, China Trade, art and technology of the Far East and South Pacific, and animals.

Academy Begins Bicentennial Year

Phillips Academy opens classes today (Thursday) for its 200th year, with its Bicentennial Celebration scheduled to take place next June, at the end of the year.

Governor Michael Dukakis will bring the Commonwealth's congratulations next week, when he comes to address the student body next Friday morning in the first regular school meeting of the year. But today 141 new students got down to their books after several days of orientation by "Blue Key" senior leaders.

In 1778, thirteen boys, aged six to thirty years, gathered for their first studies in Samuel Phillips' Academy under Master Eliphalet Pearson in an old carpenter's shop "Temporarily fitted up for school purposes."

Today, on the same Hill, 684 boys and 405 girls will begin studying in close to one hundred classrooms, taking a wider variety of courses than Master Pearson would have dreamed possible.

The students come from every area of the United States, and approximately 30 foreign countries; they came from every economic bracket and every major social grouping in the nation, following the Constitutional stipulation of the founders that the academy "be ever open to Youth, of requisite qualifications, from every quarter."

Of the 1089 Phillips Academy students in this Bicentennial Year, 141 are new students, and 63 of these are Andover and

North Andover residents:

PA Film To Preview Here

"In Their Time: Andover at 200," a new documentary film about Phillips Academy will be shown in George Washington Hall Sept. 28 at 8 p.m., as part of PA's Bicentennial celebration. It will subsequently be shown in more than 40 cities. The nation's oldest incorporated boarding school will be 200 years old in 1978.

The film is sponsored by the Merrimack Valley Bicentennial Committee, whose Chairman is Dean K. Webster of Andover. Vice-Chairmen are David L. Morton and Mrs. Thomas J. Thomas, both of Andover. Committee members include Mrs. Marshall Field, Leonard Kent and Andrew F. Shea of Andover, Richard A. Kapelson of North Andover, Clement McCarthy of Lowell and John J. Doykos, III of Methuen.

"In Their Time" portrays the contemporary Andover through the eyes of a handful of its students as they experience it in their daily lives: in the classroom, on the athletic field; with their teachers, their coaches and their friends. No one person speaks for the school in the 45 minute film, yet many speak of it, presenting a complex and lively educational community.

"In Their Time" was made for Phillips Academy by producer/director Joyce Chopra in collaboration with playwright Tom Cole under the auspices of Educational Development Center in Newton. Chopra's recent films, "Girls at 12" and "Clara and Albie," for experimental curriculum project, "The Role of Women in American Society," have won national acclaim as well as "Joyce at 34." Cole wrote Medal Honor Rag which was produced off-Broadway in the spring of 1976. Education Development Center, which is distributing the Andover film nationally, is a curriculum development organization that has to its credit some 800 films, depicting different approaches to teaching and learning.

Energy-short U.S. may have: small house with 12-inch attic insulation, a thermostat in each room, three-paned windows, coldwater laundry, formfitting bathtubs, computerized food warehouses with truck delivery, diesel-powered and electric cars, less travel and no power boat or auto racing, Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

The Language of Flowers

by Gerry Trull

One of the stranger looking succulents around is the String of Pearls (Senecio rowleyanus). It has carefree ways and is ideally suited to an owner with a lov'em and leav'em attitude towards house plants. It hangs out in your home producing a string of interesting plastic looking green balls. Its shape and size is handsome though a bit comical with small white flowers sprouting from the long stems. Your string of pearls will flourish with moderate watering and casual feeding. Add a bit of direct sun, an occasional blast of fresh air and you will have a cultured plant to enjoy for years.

On special for $1.19 this week. You'll find a fine selection of Pan American Hardy Mums to choose from at TRULL'S MILL HILL FLOWER CENTER, 411 River Rd., 851-6161. And we always have a wide array of beautiful fresh cut flowers for gift-giving or to enhance your own home. Plan to attend our Plant Seminar Oct. 13 at 7:30 p.m. Pre-registration required. More details in next weeks column. We deliver daily in the area and are as close as your telephone. Hours: 9-5:30 Mon-Sat; open phone anytime.

HELPFUL HINT

Do not grow String of Pearls from seed. Take cuttings often — they will root eagerly.

THE TOWNSMAN, SEPTEMBER 22, 1977

75 Years Ago — September, 1902

The coal situation in Andover is causing much concern. Most people are wondering where their supply will be coming from, with thoughts of closing up a major portion of the house in order to conserve fuel. The price of wood is equally high in price, thus compounding the problem as winter approaches.

A general meeting of all the teachers in town was held in Punchard Hall Monday afternoon with Superintendent Palmer and Principal Baldwin of Punchard addressing the group on Andover education.

The football squad at Phillips Academy is being trained in tackling by use of a dummy. This is the first time such a device has been used in this area.

G. L. Stone has moved his harness shop from Post Office avenue to 14 Park Street. With Mr. Stone in the work of harness making and repairing and carriage trimming, is Charles Mayers.

In the renovation of Punchard school building this past summer, new desk chairs replaced the settees in the chemistry room, new single desks replaced the double desks and three Remington typewriters were brought in for the business department.

50 Years Ago — September, 1927

Vincent P. Hickey was elected Grand Knight of the Andover Council Knights of Columbus at the annual meeting last night. Following the business session, the members listened to the Dempsey-Tunney fight on radio loaned by Fred Gardner of Lawrence and installed by Joseph Remmes.

The town officials enjoyed their annual dinner of corned beef, potatoes and cabbage at Foster's pond on Sunday as guest of Chief Charles Emerson and Llewellyn D. Pomeroy.

The Stowe school football team began practices this week under the direction of James Cole a former Bridgton Academy football player.

As a result of a hearing held in Salem last week, the county commissioners have decided not to close that section of the county road running from Highland Road to Main Street.

Ceremonies mark the laying of the cornerstone for the vestry of West Parish church, led by Rev. Newman Matthews. A copper box containing important documents about the anniversary of the church was placed in the cornerstone.

25 Years Ago — September, 1952

The Essex County Board of Trade will hold its monthly meeting next week at the Andover Country club at which time they will hear support for improvements to South Main street in the vicinity of Phillips Academy.

Rogers Barous showed some excellent broken field running in Punchard's opening win of the season, 18-0, over Chelmsford.

Top officials of the J. P. Stevens Co., from New York and the south were in town Monday to visit the Marland Mills plant and predicted a bright outlook for the local plant.

Cloud bursts lasting over two hours in length dumped up to 2.19 inches of rain in town Friday afternoon, causing flooding conditions in various areas of town.

The new expanded schedule of trains from Andover to Boston will go into effect Sunday and will also feature the use of the new Buddliner cars.

10 Years Ago — September, 1967

Richard P. Cate, presently physical director for the Lawrence YMCA, has been named director of the Andover Youth Center for a one year period.

Town Manager Richard J. Bowen informed the selectmen this week that he intends to have groundbreaking ceremonies for the new public safety center in January or February and have the building ready in November, 1968.

The so-called beach porcupines found on New England shores are hard-packed balls of twigs and grasses blown along by the wind for many miles. As the ball goes along, it picks up other material and adds to itself, just like a rolling snowball. — From "Life in the Shifting Dunes," a Museum of Science publication.

School Committeeman William A. Doherty takes exception to suggestion by school building committee that the town take over responsibility for maintenance of all school playfields.

No Savings Seen In Service Bureau

Apparently water department accounting procedures will not go to an outside computer service agency.

Selectmen were informed Monday night by George Orfanedes, chairman of the computer advisory committee, that basically, there would be no great savings, and the board would not be receiving the raw data they desired from just the billing procedures.

For some time, selectmen have had under consideration the possibility of going to a service bureau until such time as a new data processing system is put into operation. The board felt it could have a better idea of the financial operations of the water department through the providing of data quicker.

Orfanedes explained Monday night at the conference session that while the physical work on the machine now used for billing and financial procedures at the water treatment plant, would be lessened, the work for the town accountant would not decrease. All of the accounting work has to balance at the town accountant's office and this step could not be accomplished through service bureau operations.

School

consequences in this case "could be rather severe."

It was Ahouse who first questioned if establishing an assistant superintendent title could leave the committee open to suits by former personnel who were changed because of reorganization.

The committee finally directed Seifert to seek legal opinion, and Ahouse will call a special school committee session to act on the position at that time.

The job description Seifert presented would have the assistant superintendent be responsible for curriculum coordination and development for grades K through 12; direct research and development of instructional programs K-12, with emphasis on essential skills; oversee Chapter 766; direct special projects; direct in-service programs for instructional personnel; report progress and assure consistency of curriculum and instruction to the superintendent and the school committee; assist in the evaluation of administrators; carry out other duties and responsibilities deemed necessary by the superintendent and act as superintendent in the absence of the superintendent.

Seifert said the new staffer should be eligible to qualify for Massachusetts certification, and preferably have graduate study beyond a master's degree, at least five years administrative experience and curriculum construction and research experience.

Seifert had been asked at an earlier meeting by Committeeman Joseph Finn to also express the qualities he also felt desirable in such a person. Seifert said Tuesday he should have sound understanding of growth and development of children, put children first when making decisions, have the ability to plan ahead and to work well with people, yet be Supplying of data to the board, such as how much water is being used by various consumer groups, would have to be programmed, thus more expensive and detailed in operation.

The computer study chairman advised that going outside with the work could result in more personnel, rather than less, since information would still have to be prepared and controlled by the town.

As for placing the information on town owned equipment when it becomes available, the chairman indicated the conversion would not take as much work.

If just the billing procedures were to be done by the service bureau, Orfanedes felt the plan would not provide the relief sought by the board in keeping abreast of financial and other data relative to water department operations.

Assistant Town Manager Sheldon S. Cohen, who is working with the computer advisory group, said that the cost of going outside for the billing procedures could cost in the vicinity of $9-10,000 and felt that efforts could be made to improve procedures in house for a cost of $2,500.

The board appeared satisfied with the information and apparently will continue to do the billing and accounting at the deliberate in achieving goals. He would also have sound knowledge of curriculum construction and organizational change and have "the ability to turn water to wine, rocks to money and able to walk on water."

In answer to a question from Casimir Kolaski about data processing experience, Seifert said he felt that expertise should lie on the business/personnel side of the organization initially. He said it "would be nice" if the new person had Computer experience, "but not a top priority."

continue this weekend by the "Help Save Your Post Office" committee. Over 2,000 signatures were secured from the Shawsheen and Ballardvale areas last weekend. These two areas are to lose their facilities under the current plan.

Chairman Lawrence Spiegel of the Industrial Development Commission informed selectmen Monday night that he felt possibly one or both of the substations could be saved, if there was some negotiating allowed. He suggested that town support for the move of the distribution work to Lawrence, could be traded for retention of the two offices.

But, postal workers and residents alike, at the Monday conference session, were intent on a status quo solution to the problem, the postal employees emphasizing that there is sufficient space in the water treatment plant until data processing machinery is available. Ofanedes indicated that the unit itself could be on line in June if 1978, with programming and scheduling to be phased in from that point on.

Local Women Have Roles In Fine Arts Campaign

Several area residents have been named to key roles in the Museum of Fine Art's Capital Campaign to raise $19.5 million for a climate control system and other renovations.

Mrs. Samuel S. Rogers, 592 Osgood St., North Andover, and Mrs. John J. McArdle, Jr., 47 Central St., Andover, have been appointed team coordinators in the Major Gifts Division program, according to Campaign Co-Chairmen Mrs. Helen Berner of Chestnut Hill and Paul Hellmuth of Cambridge. Working as team members will be Mrs. Robert Saltonstall, 665 Osgood St., North Andover, and Mrs. Robert L. V. French, 111 Highland Road, Andover. More than 500 volunteers are participating in the Major Gifts Division program which has a goal of $1.2 million.

The Museum's Capital Campaign for the installation of a climate-control system needed to protect the Museum's collections from harmful levels of temperature, humidity, and air pollution, gets underway officially Oct. 1. The campaign funds will also allow the Museum to renovate its gallery and storage areas and to erect a new west wing designed by the world-renowned architect I.M. Pei.

In addition to her Museum interests, she is on the local committee of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, a director of the Handicapped Nursery in Andover, member of the Development Committee at Pine Manor College and a director of the North Andover Historical Society.

Giant kelp, a seaweed, can grow two feet a day and reach 200 feet. A rocky ocean floor can support 100 pounds of fish per acre; covered with kelp the same area can support 300 pounds of fish, Massachusetts Audubon says.

At Banking Session

Richard Gusmini, National Bank Examiner from Andover, was among those attending the 33rd annual session of the Graduate School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin-Madison in August.

The school is sponsored by the Central States Conference of Bankers Associations from 16 Midwestern states. About 1,500 bankers were enrolled this year from 45 states and Puerto Rico.

Vintage Year For Foliage

Fall foliage in New England is expected to be outstanding this year, according to information compiled by the Automobile Club of Merrimack Valley.

Early reports indicate a better season is in the making, compared with the past few years when Fall colors were not so brilliant. It looks as though weather conditions will be favorable — adequate rainfall during August and early September and now clear, warm days and cool nights.

There are some splashes of color showing, even in southern New England. However, those are swamp maples and sugar maples that turn early every Fall, or else they are old or diseased trees.

Peak color is expected to be right on schedule. It's due in the mountains of New Hampshire and Vermont around the first week in October, according to the AAA. Best foliage in the Berkshire Hills of Western Massachusetts comes the first two weeks in October. In eastern Massachusetts peak color is generally mid October and later.

Postal Officials Beware!

Officials in the U. S. Postal Service can take advance warning that their Andover post office problems are not over, quite yet.

They, and the congressional delegation from this area are on the verge of receipt of a concerted campaign to retain status quo for Andover postal service, buildings and all, which is interesting.

For the better part of two years, Andover and the postal officials have been attempting to find utopia — a new distribution facility somewhere in any one of a dozen locations, and retain the present financial facilities in the downtown area.

Recently, the U. S. Postal Service informed Andover's Industrial Development Commission that the decision had been made to move the distribution and processing facilities to Lawrence, retain the present central office and close the Ballardvale and Shawsheen substations.

While essentially this is what the IDC was charged to come up with, at least as far as the central facility remaining where it is, now the general thrust is toward retaining both the "Vale and Shawsheen branches and keeping everything as is at the central or Main street facility.

The postal authorities have indicated that the $1.5 million set aside for a new Andover facility has been taken out of the budget and as of Nov. 5, all distribution and processing goes to Lawrence.

For the first time in all the wrangling over a new post office, the people actually involved, have appeared on the scene. Postal workers appeared before selectmen Monday night to substantiate their contention that the present facility is not only adequate, but moving out is cost prohibitive.

Their contention may be valid, but we are somewhat at a loss to come up with any federal agency which uses logic in its basic thinking.

Among the arguments to stay in Andover, is that in Lawrence, Andover will be allotted about 4,000 square foot of space. At the present location, the sorting, processing, etc., occupies about the same amount of space, possibly more.

There is the argument that confining all activities to the one central location will only add to an already difficult parking situation and horrendous traffic problem in the particular area.

And, of course, the energy crisis bit, about use of 29 Jeeps running back and forth to Lawrence, burning gas, etc., as compared to the present 17 vehicles used for Andover mail.

Postal workers have operated out of the Andover facility for many years, meeting the growth of the town and answering the challenge of peak periods, such as Christmas mail, without major difficulties. Sometimes under duress, but always able to meet the "appointed rounds," as they say.

Residents of Shawsheen and Ballardvale canvassed their areas last weekend with petitions seeking retention of the branch service as well as all services out of the central office. To go with those petitions, signed by some 2,000 residents, there will be another signature drive this weekend.

It is an effort to display to federal officials that Andover wants its postal service to remain as is.

The Industrial Development Commission members, Dr. Lawrence Spiegel and Mrs. Dorothy Sherrerd, got the message clearly Monday night and will return to regional postal officials in an effort to convince them of the need for retention of the two branches.

Postal workers will ask assistance of their union representation for retention of the entire operation here on Main street.

There is precedent for the postal service dropping all plans.

Amherst residents and administrators, applied pressure to leave their operations as is, after plans were announced for changes similar to what has been going on in Andover.

The town put up funds for an architect to draw up how the present facility in Amherst could continue to operate efficiently.

Other towns, such as Weymouth and Natick, also retained their services, after announcement concerning new facilities.

The problem in Andover now would appear to be buying time.

The move to the Lawrence facility for processing work is slated for Nov. 5.

To be effective this date must be altered, otherwise the move will be made and doubtless be permanent.

Reportedly there will be in the vicinity of 1,000 boxes in the renovated central office, if current plans go through. It doesn't take too much to imagine what that could do to parking and traffic conditions in the particular area.

If, as has now been pointed out by those particularly involved, the postal workers, the present operation can continue most economically in the Main street location, then, logically, that route should be followed.

The problem now is to convince the postal authorities.

They were besieged with petitions before when some Andover residents disliked an Andover street location for their new building.

They listened then.

Question is will the current concerted drive again fall on responsive ears. It's worth the try.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Seat Belts or Air Bags?

by Jack Anderson
with Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — The Department of Transportation is trying to settle a multimillion-dollar dispute: should future automobiles be equipped with seat belts or air bags?

Transportation Department officials favor air bags. These would automatically inflate in case of an accident. Safety experts estimate that air bags would save between 9,000 and 12,000 lives every year.

But the safety belt council is fighting to save seat belts. It has a champion on Capitol Hill in the form of Rep. Bud Shuster, R-Pa., who has been attacking air bags and defending seat belts.

We previously reported that air bags might be hazardous because a toxic chemical, called sodium azide, is used to inflate them. We quoted Shuster as warning that the poisonous chemical might leak. We also quoted the head of the Highway Traffic Safety Administration, Joan Claybrook, who said the chemical would be safely sealed.

Now we've uncovered some startling new evidence which raises a question about Shuster's credibility. He has been citing a report by a private research organization, known as Economics and Science Planning. The study claims that seat belts save more lives than air bags would.

But the study may be tainted. The research group, we've learned, has been doing business with the safety belt council. The group has collected at least $15,000 from the seat belt proponents.

Representative Shuster, furthermore, has been claiming the study is supported by the Highway Traffic Administration. But this has been denied by Joan Claybrook.

She has written a private letter to Rep. John Moss, D-Calif., declaring that the study is inaccurate and does not represent the agency's views. "The fact is," wrote Claybrook, "air bags are four times as effective in preventing fatalities as safety belts."

A spokesman for the research firm said the study was not influenced by their relationship with the safety belt council. Shuster also denied that his statements have been misleading. Despite Claybrook's disavowal, he continued to insist that the study was financed by her agency.

Concorde Clamor — The controversial, supersonic

Concorde is the world's noisiest airliner. But it is producing more noise on Capitol Hill than in the skies.

The Concorde flies faster than sound. But it takes off and lands with such a roar that environmentalists have fought to keep it out of U.S. airports.

A House subcommittee, headed by Rep. Leo Ryan, D-Calif., is investigating the Concorde's noise problem. Ryan called upon Transportation Secretary Brock Adams for the secret presidential options on the Concorde.

Adams, in turn, spoke to the president's national security advisor, Zbigniew Brzezinski. He agreed that Ryan could see the secret options if he kept the information to himself. Ryan refused the offer.

Instead, the Representative called on two transportation experts to testify before his committee. Neither one appeared. The enraged Ryan shot off a letter to Adams, demanding an explanation. Adams claimed there had been a misunderstanding, and the witnesses later appeared.

We have learned, meanwhile, that federal officials have admitted the Concorde cannot meet U.S. noise abatement standards.

Under The Dome — Age is finally catching up with Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala. The 77-year-old lawmaker recently toddled out of a Capitol Hill elevator on the wrong floor and was on the way down the hall when two of his colleagues called him back. "I'm like an old horse," he sighed. "You open the barn door and out I go."

— Rep. James Jeffords, R-Vt., has come up with a proposal that calls for special solar or wind-powered generators to be installed at American embassies overseas. That way, Jeffords believes, Third World governments would get a chance to see working models of devices that use readily available sources of energy. The plan would cost only $5 million and U.S. embassies would save money now spent for conventional oil and gas-powered heating systems.

Ditch Hitch — Because of a couple of major hitches, the Panama Canal treaty recently signed by President Carter and Panamanian strongman Omar Torrijos may never go into effect.

The biggest barrier to an eventual turnover of the canal to Panama, of course, is the U.S. Senate. Two-thirds of the Senate must agree to the treaty before it will be ratified.

But there's another problem. According to the Panamanian Constitution, the power to enter into international treaties and agreements rests solely with the president of Panama. Torrijos is not the president. He is commander of the national guard and leader of the Panamanian revolution.

According to State Department sources, the Panamanian president delegated the treaty-signing authority to Torrijos. There is still a possibility, however, that the treaty may have violated Panamanian law.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

The Book Club at The Haven is holding its first meeting of the new season next Thursday, Sept. 29 at 2:30. Conducted by The Haven's good friend, Gwen Smith of the Memorial Hall Library staff, the first book to be reviewed this year is Bubbles — a Self-portrait of Beverly Sills. The autobiography of a talented and courageous woman has been a best seller for some time. Registration is not required for this activity. You are welcome to just come!

Frances Dixon will start her sewing classes at The Haven, Friday, Oct. 7 and everyone interested is urged to pre-register by calling The Haven and letting them know you want to be included. The numbers are 475-3968 and 475-4165.

Bridge lessons at The Haven have had to be cancelled, but anyone interested in playing bridge will find partners each Tuesday morning from 10 a.m. to noon — or bring your own partner.

Every Wednesday afternoon Doris Hudgins is conducting a sing-along or community sing program for everyone. Whether you can sing or just like to listen to others, you are invited to come each Wednesday to sing with Doris. Helen Robinson will be accompanying the group at the piano.

Last week was the first meeting of the season of The Haven Associates and the place was filled with people — to overflowing. This sort of interest and participation is most appreciated by all those who have worked so hard to make the Haven that provides real service to Andover's elder citizens. There are so many things to do and people to do them with at The Haven there is no excuse for sitting home alone and lonely. Come to The Haven. You'll be glad you did.

You are reminded that the Kelly MacLean Hearing Aid bill needs your support — House 6244. This bill will professionalize the sale of hearing aids requiring certification of need by a physician, audiologist or otolaryngologist to eliminate the purchase of hearing aids that will not help that particular hearing deficiency. Call Mary hamilton for further information.

Warriors Off To Winning Start

"He's Throwing To You"

Head Coach Dick Collins gives some last minute tips to Paul Farnham (46) who caught three touchdowns passes in last Saturday's 47-27 Andover High win over Pentucket. Pass receptions are a Farnham tradition and Saturday, while Paul was performing for the Warriors, brother Bob was doing his best for Brown University, catching one touchdown pass, in the Bruins opening Ivy League loss to Yale.

By Lyn Stalter

Andover High's Golden Warriors cashed in on five Pentucket Regional turnovers Saturday afternoon, and took their season opener in West Newbury 47-27.

Coach Dick Collins' defensive crew allowed the Pentucket Sachems to advance deep into their territory time and again, but five times forced the home team to fumble away the ball and once turned up with an interception.

The air strikes of Andover Quarterback Dan Welsh then took advantage of the errors to build the Warrior score.

Pentucket got out ahead with five minutes left in the first period, when Halfback Tom Grant scored from the one-yard line and Mike Downing added the point after.

But Andover's Kirk Skinner soon recovered a fumbled punt on the Pentucket 36, and Welsh hit Paul Farnham for the first of three touchdowns the latter would produce during the afternoon. Manny Silva kicked the extra point.

Andover next took over on its own 22 with 2:52 left in the half. Rick Collins pulled in a 56-yard Welsh pass to put Andover on the Pentucket 22 and set up a 10-yard Welsh to Farnham goal.

Pentucket fumbled away the next series on its own 29 to set up a three-yard Welsh touchdown pass to Joe Terrion, with 45 seconds left. Silva's point made it 20 to 7.

Andover was snuffed on the ground in the first half, held to only 21 yards rushing. But the warriors struck for 145 yards in the air. Welsh connected on 10 of 11 passes for the entire afternoon, throwing for four touchdowns.

Andover opened the second half with a 66-yard drive for another touchdown, and Welsh hit Ed Collins by air. Silva added another point after.

Dave LaFleur soon jumped on another Pentucket fumble, and Silva took over the driver's seat. He engineered at 67-yard, seven-play drive that ended with a 46-yard pass to Farnham.

Pentucket fought back on the next series with a 70-yard scoring pass from Quarterback Bret Fallavollito to Flanker Don Sheldon, and Downing adding the extra point.

Mark Hopkins recovered another fumble for Andover at the Pentucket 17, just as the third period time was about to run out, and Ray Lynch ran the ball in to make it 40-14.

Pentucket's Fallavollito again found Sheldon for a 64-yard bomb and battled back with Downing's extra point to a 40-21 deficit.

Then Dave Alexander snagged an interception, giving Andover the ball on its own 20, and the Golden Warriors marched 80 yards in five plays for their best ground series of the game. Lynch then went 13 yards for the score.

Welch completed 10 of 11 passes for the afternoon, for a total of 209 yards and four touchdowns. Silva added six of nine completions out of nine attempts, for another 80 yards and one TD.

Ray Lynch was the leading warrior rusher with 69 yards in five carries.

On the Pentucket side of the statistics, Fallavollito hit on seven of 13 tosses for 223 yards and two touchdowns.

Grant led in rushing with 88 yards in 14 carries.

The Warriors open their Merrimack Valley Conference season on Saturday hosting Tewksbury in a 1:30 p.m. contest at Eugene V. Lovely field.

Three At Dartmouth

Three students from Andover were among the approximately 1,050 students entering the freshman class as Dartmouth College began its academic year here in September.

Dartmouth, the ninth oldest college in the United States and the northernmost of the Ivy League institutions, operates on a four-term, year-round system. All four terms are equal and all entering students are required to attend at least one term in four years during the summer.

They are Kenneth E. MacKenzie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl MacKenzie, Jr., 15 Crestwood Drive; Cynthia L. Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Whitman G. Stephens, 13 Summer Street, both of Andover; and Linda M. Gundal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Gundal, 77

Johnson Street, North Andover.

MacKenzie is a 1977 graduate of Phillips Andover Academy where he was on the Honor Roll and was a member of the Varsity Track Team.

A graduate of Andover High School, Miss Stephens was elected to the National Honor Society, was on the Honor Roll, and was active with the school yearbook.

Miss Gundal graduated from North Andover High School where she was named a National Merit Scholar and was a member of the National Honor Society as well. Valedictorian of her class, she won the Harvard Book Prize and the Foreign Language Excellence Award. In addition, she was active with the school newspaper and yearbook, and was station manager of the high school radio station.

Quit Smoking Classes Set

"Quit Smoking" classes will begin on Sept. 27 at the office of the American Lung Association of Essex County at 239 Newburyport Turnpike (Rte 1), Topsfield. The classes will meet at 7:30 p.m. and will continue for two or three evenings each week through Oct. 13. Preregistration and payment of a $10 fee are required. All interested smokers should call the Lung Association.

The class program will include medical and professional speakers on the health, psychological and weight-gain aspects of smoking and quitting, plus small and large group discussions, informational literature and films.

Participants should be prepared to quit smoking by the last class, on Oct. 13, either gradually or "cold turkey." The buddy system will be used in the classes, to provide each participant with partner support in addition to small group support. The small group leaders will be ex-smokers who have graduated from other "Quit Smoking" classes.

Only 30 registrations will be accepted, on a first-come-first-served basis, so interested smokers should act soon.

Pack 79 To Begin Activity

West Andover's newest Cub Pack, Pack 79, will hold its first meeting of this year for new and returning Cubs, on Sept. 27, at 7 p.m. in the recreation hall of St. Robert's Church on Haggett's Pond Road.

Eight, nine and ten year old boys who are interested in joining the group as Cubs or Webelos should come with their parents to this first meeting.

Activities Pack 709 anticipates for the year include cook-outs, field trips, family fun nights, and for the Webelos at least one camping trip. A special event enjoyed by the boys and their fathers is the annual fishing trip.

The Pack Committee hopes this year to increase the number of dens located in the fast growing area of West Andover in order to bring Scouting into the boys' own neighborhoods.

Sport Shop Again Softball Champions

By Rick Harrison

The Sport Shop recently completed an impressive sweep of Andover Softball League titles, adding the playoff championship to the regular season crown it captured last month.

The town champions, who have a long history of success in the league, breezed through the summer schedule with a flashy 22-2 record.

After earning a quarterfinal round bye in the playoffs, The Sport Shop conquered Andover Auto House in a best-of-3 semifinal series.

Auto House, which had eliminated Town Grill in the best-of-3 quarterfinals, shocked The Sport Shop by winning the opening game of the series. However, the champs rebounded to take the next two.

The title showdown was an instant replay of last year's final, except that Hockey Shop won the playoff crown in 1976.

Once again Sport Shop dropped the first game in the best-of-5 set, 8-4, but swept the next three contests to capture the trophies.

Sport Shop tied the series with an explosive 24-4 triumph in game two, then won the pivotal third tilt 6-5 and clinched it with a 16-6 victory in the fourth game.

Sport Shop thus compiled a 27-4 overall record, believed to be the best mark ever in the league.

The regular season title was its second straight, and over the last two summers Sport Sho is 46-12 having chalked up a 19-8 record in 1976.

Vito Caiati and Dr. Doug Dunbar shared the pitching duties all season for the champs, with Caiati hurling the final game of the playoffs to cap a superb season.

The remainder of the starting line-up for Sport Shop featured Bill Speencer at catcher, Pete Anderson at first base, Chad Wilson at second base, John Recesso at shortstop, Alex Palmer at third base, Charlie Heseltine in leftfield, Chuck Willard in centerfield, Al Eggert in rightfield and Mickey Ouellette at shortfield.

Eggert and Palmer were two-way standouts throughout the playoffs, with the former smashing a key hopmerun in the final series against Hockey Shop.

Keith Starks, who played second base and also did some pitching, turned in a fine job toth ways for Hockey Shop along with Kevin O'Brien, *Ted Palmieri and front line pitcher Ralph Tufano.

Hockey Shop, runner-up during the regular season and playoff champs in 1976, had ousted Howe Realty in the semifinals.

Next summer everyone will be gunning for The Sport Shop once again, as it tries for a third successive championship and tries to equal or better its sensational 27-4 record of 1977.

Section 4. Restraint of Dogs

A. The canine control officer may order the owner or keeper of a dog to place under restraint the said dog for a period of not more than thirty days if the said officer shall personally observe or have probable cause to believe that the dog has committed any of the offences referred to in Section 3.A. (1) through (5), (7), or (8).

B. The Canine Control Officer shall order the owner or keeper of a dog to place under restraint the said dog for a period of not more than thirty days if the said officer shall personally observe or have probable cause to believe that the dog has committed the offense referred to in Section 3.A. The thirty day period referred to herein shall be addition to any period of quarantine required by Section 8. of these By-Laws and shall commence immediately after the completion of the quarantine.

C. In addition to, or in lieu of, the foregoing Sections 4.A. and 4.B. any person shall have the right of written complaint to the Selectmen provided by General Laws Chapter 140, Section 157.

D. All dogs must be under restraint during the hours of 7:00 a.m. to 8:30 a.m., 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. from Monday through Friday of each week, commencing with the day after Labor Day and ending with the last day of June which next follows.

Section 6. Further Control of Dogs in Oestrus Cycle

Section 7. Nuisances

are you chicken
about putting all your eggs

Some property owners get the deep horrors about listing their property exclusively with one broker. They have visions of him fleeing to a vacation in the Sunny South, leaving them out in the cold, out of touch with the Real Estate market.

Can such a thing happen? Not if you're a Victor customer. We work as a team. Although we like the warmer climate as much as the next man, we don't depart en masse. A team member is always working in your behalf. Does it mean we're the only company actively interested in you? No. Once listed with us your property needs and objectives are publicized to a wide group of brokers. They work with us to get immediate action and results for you.

When you put all your eggs in the exclusive *Victor basket, things begin to happen. Try us and see.

Post Office

present facility to handle Andover's mail. Tuesday night the workers met with union officials and received support.

John J. Marco, national business agent of the National Association of Letter Carriers said:

"I have notified USPS New York that I oppose the move of the Andover carriers to Lawrence Post Office because of:

"1. Decrease of service to the public.
"2. Increase gasoline usage 70,000 gallons per year.

"3. Increase traffic problem in Lawrence with Post Office vehicles and private vehicles.

"4. Loss of first class office to Andover with 40 pound packages no longer being accepted.

"5. Carriers less available to customers about 5 miles away in Lawrence."

John J. Hannon, national vice president of the American Postal Workers Union advised:

"It is the A.P.W.U. position that the move of Andover mails to Lawrence is completely unnecessary. The present space needs in Andover are being met. Moving distribution to the Lawrence facility will only create an overcrowded situation in Lawrence with the possibility that delivery of local mails in Andover will be delayed. There will be additional fuel and maintenance costs for vehicles which now will be traveling between Lawrence and Andover not to mention the addition fuel cost to employees. If the people of Andover don't fight this move they will next find themselves without any local post office."

Monday night, Elaine Demers, representing the Ballardvale Improvement Association, presented petitions from that area, including 37 businesses from the section. She said that the figures presented by postal officials showing the Vale unit operating at a loss are not accurate. Business mail from the area is processed and credited to the main office rather than the Vale station.

She also cited traffic and parking problems which would be created by consolidating all services at the Main street office.

Shawsheen station, she said, showed a profit last year because the postal officials transferred two men to the central office.

John White, a postal employee warned that if the Shawsheen and Vale offices can be closed, officials could also close the central facility as well. He pointed out that the postal service had spent $90,000 a year ago to renovate and improve the central office.

Michael Brennan, also a postal worker, took exception to the postal service contention the carriers and clerks would have more space in Lawrence. He said the Lawrence allotment was about 4,000 square feet, while the Andover facility at present has 4,636 square feet.

Chairman Susan T. Poore of the selectmen noted that this was the first time the board had heard from those actually involved. She said that the board's feeling, along with that of IDC members, always was that the present facility was adequate, but that it had to be emphasized by those actually involved.

The postal workers said the reason they were not involved previously was that they were under the impression that a new facility was to be built in Andover. It was only within the past month that the new plan to move to Lawrence was presented.

It was generally agreed that time was of the essence and that postal officials should be asked to delay the proposed Nov. 5 date for moving the operations to Lawrence. The IDC will work on this, along with selectmen.

Mrs. Poore also informed the residents that they would get the petitions to the congressional delegation.

Gerry Carney, another postal worker, said he considered the move to Lawrence cost prohibitive. Seven years ago, he said, they wanted to make some moves, but use of a downstairs area, affectionately known as "kerosene castle," is now accommodating the sorting and processing operations, without difficulty or complaint.

Carney also noted that Amherst had gone through a similar process and the town won out in the end, through concerted effort of townspeople.

Mrs. Poore asked the workers to act through their unions to apply pressure, and that the board would assist with the public response, in an effort to retain all facilities as is.

The discovery and use of coal and oil enabled large populations to live in cities. Each person who moves from rural to a city area, with no change in his consumption level, uses more energy for transportation, housing, fuel and food which is processed and transported, Massachusetts Audubon says.

'Water Safe' Program To Begin

The Andover Physical Education Department grades Three-Four Swim program will begin at the Phillips Academy Pool next week.

The 'Water safe' program will begin for Doherty school Monday, Sept. 26 and the Shawsheen and South Elementary Schools on Thursday, Sept. 29. The time is 5:15 - 6 p.m.

The Program is under the direction of William Rushforth.
